YAQUI INDIANS ARE

ACTIVE IN SONORA ACTIVE IN SONORA

According to reports brought hars by arrivals from the west coast country the Yaqui Indians are analy extending considerable trouble. When the Maytorena-Calles fead was at its height hundreds of the indians were armed by Maytorena, who counted almost exclusively on them for maintaining his power. In pursuance of the agreement reached at the Nogales conference, practically all of the indians were mustered out of the service. A large proportion however, retained their arms and it is these who are now causing the trouble. Many raids on ranches in the Yaqui valley are reported. Both Gen. Benjamin GI, military commander of the state, and governor Maytorena are doing all in their power to subdue the Indians.
